Full stack web developer continuously learning new technologies and skills to improve in professional career as well in my personal projects. Motivation to be a web developer was knowing all the amazing projects friends would show that inspire to take the first steps. Aspiring to be a developer that designs intuitive applications. Attended UCR Bootcamp Extension where recently earned a certificate in full stack development. Throughout every project looking for issues that can improve and find ways to code more efficiently. Excited to leverage skills as part of a fast-paced, quality-driven team to build better experiences on the web.
